

Stuart, Michael & Andrew Leach Photo taken in Springfield Road in the late 1960's

Stuart and Andrew Leach taken in Painswick early 1960's

Old Gloucestershire County Badge

Current Gloucestershire County

The County badge represents the Golden Fleece, which was produced from the Cotswold Lion Sheep, is then surrounded by the Teasels, which were used to clean the fleece.

Old District Badge

Current District and County Badge

The District Badge is a representation of the water wheels that powered the mills in the Stroud Valleys, the Dolphins are from the Coat of Arms of Tetbury, the blue and white represents the River Frome that powered the water wheels and the red represents the cloth produced in the mills for the Guards Regiments.

The Legend of the Two Dolphins in the Tetbury Coat of Arms

As Tetbury is, rather a long way from the sea it is rather unusual to use two dolphins on the town's coat of arms.

In the 15th Century, Tetbury belonged to the Berkeley family and the Earl of Berkeley was the Lord of the Manor. He owned other properties in Ireland and while on a trip, the ship he was sailing in struck some submerged wreckage near the Irish coast and began to sink. The water stopped rising and they were able to reach land. On investigation, it was found that two dolphins had become wedged in the hole, which stopped the water from rising.

Thereafter the dolphins were adopted as the coat of arms of the town.

Joyce Simmonds Investing new Beavers

Beaver Leaders Christine Walkley and Maureen Keogh

Beaver Leaders Maureen Keogh, Denise Gifford, Joyce Simmonds and Christine Walkley

Beavers Celebrating 20 years of Randwick Beavers

Beavers at Penn Wood Log Cabin

Beavers 35th Birthday 2021 – Reg Weaver, Keith Stanley, Denise Gifford, Maureen Keogh, Dave Westwood and Andrew Leach (Haggis)

Randwick War Memorial 2018

The Group at the World War 1 Grave of Private Edward Smith in Randwick Church Yard

Randwick Cubs visit to Robinswood Hill Country Park 2014

